The impacts of digitalization on societies and workplaces are in the focus of a workshop taking place in Helsinki on the 29th of November 2022.

The workshop focuses on digital development and future challenges in EU. How does digitalisation change life, work, and communities? How does it challenge our values and ethics? How can digitalization be shaped in a sustainable way – on all three levels of economy, ecology and social life ?

We invite speakers from Finland:

Companies, government and church responsables.

We invite you, from Finland and Germany to take part in the discussions and finding out which are ethical guidelines for digitalization to the wellbeing of all.

The workshop will be arranged in Helsinki on the 29th of November 2022 from 9 am to 6 pm.

(turn for more details)

Registered participants can to join online in TEAMS.

On the next day, 30th November, a planning day for following steps in the CALL-network is scheduled from 9 am to 4 pm.

What: Special focus on the values & ethics introduced in the Digital Compass recently presented by EU-commission. How does the Digital Compass reflect ethical guidelines for sustainable digitalisation both ecological, economic and social. Workshop includes an introduction of the EU-Digital Compass, new plans for the national digital services by the Finnish Government (Palvelutietovaranto), presentations of 2-3 companies related to new digital innovations.
